The committee devoted the entire meeting to reviewing its progress with regard to the BSBA comprehensive review it is undertaking this academic year. To date data has been collected on the curriculums of the top 50 (per Bloomberg/Business Week) undergraduate programs in the U.S., the most recent assessment results for the common goals of the BSBA have been considered, and the impact of SB 1440 has been discussed. At the meeting the committee reviewed and discussed a map of the BSBA prep and core courses vis-à-vis the common goals of the program. It was agreed that with a final review of the various data pieces the committee should be ready to move on to the development of recommendations regarding changes, if any, to the BSBA program. Discussion occurred regarding the extent to which recommendations should be constrained by perceived feasibility. The committee decided on the following course of action:

1. Development of an “ideal” revised program at its April 18 meeting.
2. Consideration of constraints that would impact the ideal program at its May 2 meeting
3. Finalization of recommendations at its May 16 meeting.

The committee adjourned at 10:45 a.m.

Next Meeting: Wednesday, April 18, 2012, 9:30 a.m.; Dean’s Conference Room
